TOUR GOLDEN STATE

MR. AND MRS. H. E. ADDAMS ZIG-ZAG OVER THE STATE IN AUTO TRAVELING 1200 MILES

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Addams of 126 Arden avenue have just returned from an auto trip in which they traveled about 1200 miles, all within the State of California, and covered an astonishing amount of territory along both the coast and the interior thoroughfares. Their route was outlined by Mr. Addams as "up the coast and then down the coast, across to the interior through Bouquet Canyon, up to Bakersfield and finally back to the coast again and home."

In giving the details he stated that on leaving Glendale for the north they went to Paso Robles and back towards the hills into Templeton where they were guests of friends who have an almond grove. In this connection, he says the soil there is a kind of shale which seems to hold moisture without packing. The trees are wonderful in their health and vigor and loaded with nuts. It seems to be one of the few ideal locations for growing almonds. Returning to Paso Robles they drove to Santa Barbara, across to Santa Paula, to Saugus, through Bouquet Canyon, north to Bakersfield and Visalia and into Orosi, which is about forty miles this side of Grant Park. There they visited for a few days with relatives who have an orange grove. Returning to Visalia and Stratford they drove across the desert to Coalinga, from there over the mountains into Fairfield, on into the San Miguel and down to Paso Robles again. San Luis Hot Springs was their next objective which led them to a little place called Avala—which, they say, is really the old port of San Luis Obispo, a quiet bay, very beautiful, and a fine place for camping and fishing. Coming north from there they again visited Santa Barbara and enjoyed a swim in the beautiful pool and motored home without making any stops by the way.

While Mr. Addams is a native of New Jersey he is a Californian by adoption and in the twelve years he has lived in the Golden State has toured its coast, desert and mountain regions in all ways. His experience is valuable and he says he will be glad to place it at the disposal of any one contemplating a trip, particularly if going to the high Sierras.

LONG BEACH SLIGHTED BY FLEET

Hundreds of Glendale people went to Long Beach and San Pedro yesterday to see the fleet. Those who went to Long Beach were considerably disappointed for the fleet had all been moved over to San Pedro, and a very few vessels could be dimly discerned about five miles distant through the haze. Since Long Beach had lavishly entertained the men and officers the day before and was still keeping open house for them, the withdrawal entirely from Long Beach waters was considerably resented. It had been announced beforehand that the vessels should anchor in a long line, stretching from Long Beach to the mouth of San Pedro Harbor so that visitors to Long Beach could obtain a good view of a few of them, at least. Whether this action was the result of scheming on the part of Los Angeles or simply mismanagement is not known, but it certainly was a shabby trick to play on Long Beach and her visitors.

BUY NEW RESIDENCE

MR. AND MRS. FRANK AYARS SOON TO MOVE TO HOME AT 315 N. ORANGE STREET

Mr. and Mrs. Ayars are looking ahead with some dread to the operation of moving from their present property to a new home they have bought from R. L. McConnell at 315 North Orange street. They expect to make the transfer about the 15th of this month and will then place the Chestnut street house on the market. They need more room and additional bedrooms which could not well be added, so they have bought on Orange. The McConnells, who are still in possession, intend to go to Santa Monica where they own a home which is not yet available because it is occupied by a tenant. In the interval of waiting Mr. and Mrs. Ayars and Mrs. Ayars' mother want to have an outing at some near beach if they can find pleasant quarters, and are considering Hermosa where there is such a colony of Glendalians.

WEATHER FORECAST—Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.

GREAT CONVENTION

GLENDALE PEOPLE ATTEND EPOCHAL MEETING OF CHRISTIAN CHURCHES

Among those who attended the closing day of the convention of Christian Churches of Southern California at Long Beach, Sunday, were Dr. and Mrs. I. H. Durfee, Dr. J. H. Daugherty and wife, R. M. Jackson and wife and O. L. Kilborn. Rev. Cole, wife and children and Miss Eva Garton had been there all week. The men of the party all attended the meeting of Pastor Taubman's Bible class, the largest in Southern California, meeting in the Laughlin Theatre building from 9:45 to 10:45. There were 428 present at this. The convention session was held at the auditorium and several thousand people were in attendance. The great feature of this gathering was the launching of the project of establishing a Christian college in Southern California. C. C. Chapman, the orange king and now oil king of Fullerton, who has been president of the convention for more than 20 years, announced that he would give $200,000 if the churches and business men of Southern California would raise $100,000. Mrs. Harris of Santa Ana at once pledged $25,000 on condition that the remaining $75,000 were raised. While all was not subscribed at this meeting the committee is confident it will be soon. The project is to locate the college next to the Normal recently converted into a State University on Vermont avenue in Hollywood. The other great project, that of establishing a National Old People's Home and Orphanage in Southern California is progressing favorably also.

STRONG WORDS

ADVENTIST PASTOR DELIVERS REMARKABLE DISCOURSE ON EVILS OF THE TIMES

G. A. Snyder, visiting pastor from Alhambra, occupied the Seventh-Day Adventist pulpit, Saturday morning. His discourse was based upon Psalm 119, verses 126 to 142: "It is time for thee, Lord, to work: for they have made void thy law. Therefore I love thy commandments above gold; yea, above fine gold. Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, because they keep not thy law. Thy righteousness is an everlasting righteousness and thy law is the truth."

David, the man after God's own heart, was exceedingly sorrowful in his day to see the willful disregard of the law of Jehovah. How much more in this age is there to cause sorrow on this account. As every stable government of earth depends upon the recognition of and obedience to right laws for the good of its people, so the recognition of God's law is essential to the maintenance of His kingdom in the hearts of men. Where there is no law, anarchy exists. In the present day conditions of revolution, disorder and downfall of modern standards, we see the results of abolition of law and order. The result

PRESBYTERIAN CONFERENCE

The annual Presbyterian Conference, which closed its sessions at Occidental College last evening, was one of the most successful gatherings ever held, both from point of attendance and strength of program. So well satisfied are the leaders that the announcement was made that the conference will be held at the same place next year. The total registration was over 250, besides a large number who attended for part of conference. The Glendale church had the largest number present. The following is a partial list: The Misses Sinclair, Elizabeth Edmonds, Esther Black, Helen Hesse, Ethel Preston, Florence Mitchell and Marjorie Smith, Mrs. Z. L. Hesse, Mr. and Mrs. David Black, H. L. Finlay, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison, Mrs. Ethel Lilly, J. W. Fairchild, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Mitchell and Rev. and Mrs. W. E. Edmonds.

GOPHERS KILL FIG TREES

On West Windsor Road, No. 417, at the home of Mrs. Louisa Mitchell, are two large fig trees of several years' growth that have been killed by gophers. These two trees brought Mrs. Mitchell as high as $50 in a single season as the fruit grew and ripened for several months of the year, necessitating two and three pickings a week. Last winter and spring gophers worked around the roots of these two trees, cutting many of them off so that the trees fell over and withered away. Stephen Packer of Riverdale Drive lost a fig tree in the same manner.

ANDREW CARNEGIE DEAD

PASSES AWAY THIS MORNING AT LENOX, MASS., OF BRONCHIAL PNEUMONIA AT AGE OF 84

LENOX, Mass., Aug. 11.—Andrew Carnegie died at seven o'clock ths morning of bronchial pneumonia. He was born in 1855 at Dumferline, Fifeshire, Scotland. In 1848 he came to the United States and worked as a weaver's assistant at Allegheny, Pa. He became a telegraph messenger in 1851 and learning telegraphy worked in Pittsburg for the Ohio Telegraph Company and later for the Pennsylvania Railway, by which corporation he was advanced until he became superintendent of the Pitttsburg Division.

During the Civil War he was superintendent of militatry railways and government telegraph lines in the east. He joined T. T. Woodruff, the inventoor of the sleeping car in organizing the Woodruff Sleeping Car Company. This was the beginning of his fortune, which was increased by careful oil investments.

After the Civil War he established the Keystone Bridge Works and the Union Iron Works. In 1868 he introduced the Bessemer process of steel making and later became the principal owner of the Edgar Thompson Steel Works, the Carnegie & Phillips Company, and of Carnegie Brothers. In 1889 he organized the so-called "steel trust," which in 1901 was merged with the United States Steel Corporation, and he rettired from active business. Then began a career of speech making, globe trotting and gift making. He declared it to be a sin for a man to die rich and started to give away his fortune. The gifts he made totaled $300,000,000, but they failed to keep up with his income.

The outbreak of the European war was a great shock to him and since 1915 he has been inactive with health steadily failing. For several months he has been unable to go out without an attendant.

LABOR AND CAPITAL CONFERENCES

PRESIDENT WILSON PROPOSES TO HOLD A SERIES OF OPEN DISCUSSIONS AT WHITE HOUSE

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—President Wilson is arranging for a series of industrial conferences with the representatives of capital and labor for the open discussion of economc problems. They will be held in the White House before the question of the high cost of living is settled. In October conferences with railway and other leaders will be held to discuss the nationalization of the railways.

Recent developments in the railway situation indicate that the railway leaders will not immediately press to a settlement their demands for the nationalization of the roads.

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT MEASURE

BILL REPORTED FROM THE SENATE TO THE HOUSE ELIMINATES SOME DRASTIC PROVISIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—The Senate judiciary sub-committee has reported to the main committee of the House, the draft of a prohibition enforcement bill in which many drastic provisions have been removed. It eliminates the provision making the property owner liable to punishment if he has "reason to believe" that his property is being used in violation of the prohibition law. The substituted provision makes definite knowledge necessary. It was feared that over-zealous enforcement agents might use the original provision improperly.

BRUTALITIES OF LIEUT. "H. B." SMITH

CORP. WILLIAM SULLIVAN TESTIFIES TO HIS INHUMAN TREATMENT OF AMERICAN PRISONERS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BUTTE, Mont., Aug. 11.—Among the alleged practices of Lieut. H. B. "Hard Boiled" Smith, charged with inhuman treatment of American soldier prisoners in France, is the charge by Corp. William V. Sullivan of Butte, that Smith required all prisoners, including injured, to run up and down three flights of stairs with their hands extended over their heads, and required all prisoners who were not detailed for work to stand at attention for as long as six hours at a stretch.

Sullivan served as provost guard under Smith.

"The stories of brutalities alleged against Lieut. Smith are not exaggerated," said Sullivan. "I served in the provost guard under him and hate him as cordially as does every soldier who came in contact with him. He frequently required newly-received prisoners to scrub sections of the barracks floor with a toothbrush, and has been known to set prisoners to the task of emptying a tub of water with a teaspoon.

"Prisoners who failed to implicitly follow the orders of Lieut. Smith were invariably beaten."

RAILWAY STRIKE AT AN END

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Reports made today to the Railway Administration showed that between fifteen and twenty-five thousand striking railway shopmen returned to work this morning in various parts of the United States.

DOUBLE SURPRISE

MISSES HELEN SPANGLER AND ADELE WALKER SHOWERED AT WILBUR FRANCY'S HOME

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Francy, at 454 Ivy street, last Friday evening a double surprise was given for Miss Helen Spangler, a bride-elect, and Miss Adele Walker, who is to go east in the near future. The fact that the "52-A" girls of the Glendale Telephone Office were responsible for the affair assured its success in advance.

Music and games were enjoyed and at ten o'clock the twenty-seven guests were seated around a large table beautifully decorated according to a red and green color scheme, where dainty refreshments were served after Miss Walker had been completely surprised by the receipt of a set of beautiful silver spoons. Following the refreshments, guests were dismissed from the room for a few minutes and when all was set Miss Spangler was recalled and showered with gifts, her surprise being even more complete than that of Miss Walker, for each of the honorees had been told that it was a surprise for the other. Miss Spangler received many beautiful and useful articles which will be appropriate to the little home of which she will soon be the mistress as the bride of George Van Hazelen, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Hazelen, of 352 West Park avenue.

Appropriate little speeches of acknowledgment were made by Miss Walker and Miss Spangler, who were also showered with the good wishes of the friends with whom they are so deservedly popular. The guest list included: Helen and Gladys Spangler, George Van Hazelen, Adele Walker, Edwin and Hazel Colton, Marie Hezmahalch, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Starr, Louise, Emma and Celine Moniot, Louise Lambermont, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Francy, Irene Riley, Tessa Bott, Sibyl Roake, Myrtle Ogier, Mr. and Mrs. Glasscock, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Doremus, Ruth Sunkes, Ardelle Taylor and Esther Flanders.

HOT AFTER HOARDERS

ATTORNEY GENERAL STARTS CAMPAIGN AGAINST PROFITEERING, HOARDING CO.'S.

The United States Government is going after food hoarders and profiteers with a vengeance and Attorney General Palmer has sent out a request to all the patriots who acted as county food administrators during the war to serve again in the same capacity and to appoint fair price committees in each town to see that retailers do not overcharge on any food commodities. Mr. Palmer charges that his office assistants have uncovered in Chicago a well-defined conspiracy between the sugar hoarders, the canned fruit combine and the packers to hold up prices to the highest limit. Sugar barons have millions of tons of sugar stored, which they are refusing to sell at all or else in small quantities at several cents above the regular price. One of these firms has 1,600,000 pounds in hoarding. The object of this is to prevent home canning, so that the $100,000,000 canning combine can hold up the housewives for any old price they may choose to charge for canned goods.

The packers, who have in recent years gone heavily into canning and the making of jellies and jams, will benefit in like manner. The Attorney General declares that stocks of sugar, large and small, must be placed on the market at once at the market price, and retailers must charge only a reasonable profit. As the Evening News has stated before, there is no profiteering by Glendale retailers of food products, particularly sugar. It sells at from 9.6 cents to 10½ cents a pound as against 16 cents in some Chicago stores, and all who want it can buy what they need.

MRS. PLANNETTE RETURNS

Mrs. Rhodora Plannette and daughter, Margaret, have returned from New York where for three weeks they visited Mrs. Plannette's mother and brother, and other relatives. She reports that New York is very much astir about the cost of living, which is considerably higher than here. There is more agitation about it and greater effort among the club women and business men to correct it. She was fortunate in having very comfortable weather for her visit, though there was considerable rain, but she enjoyed that. While the country there is beautiful, she is glad to get back to California and home.

FRANK R. LIDDELL

ARRIVES AT SAN FRANCISCO FROM BREST; SHOULD REACH GLENDALE WEDNESDAY

Mrs. Frank R. Liddell, mother of Frank R. Liddell, who has been a movie operator during the war in the signal corps of the U. S. Regular Army, has been in considerable anxiety over the delayed arrival of her son, whom she expected to sail from Brest July 6th. Thursday she received a telegram from him dated at Chicago, in which he announced that he would reach San Francisco Sunday and hoped to secure his discharge at the Presidio in time to get home by Wednesday. Sunday morning she was overjoyed to hear his voice over the telephone. He had stopped at Barstow for breakfast en route for 'Frisco, and had improved the chance for a word with his mother. Mrs. Liddell has had a call from a gentleman who was a passenger on the same train with her son, who assured her that Frank looks fine and that it will take him about six months to tell all his wonderful war experiences, for his work necessitating a close-up view of the battle field, was especially hazardous and the fact that he has come home without a scratch seems little short of miraculous. Just what his present rank is she does not know. When he left Columbia University to go overseas it was with the understanding that he would be given a Second Lieutenant's commission with an opportunity for promotion to First Lieutenant, but whether or not the promises were made good she will not know until she sees Frank. She is thankful enough to have him returned to her without quarreling about his titles. He did not leave Brest until July 12th, and a breakdown of machinery on the boat caused a slow passage, hence his delay in reaching New York.

THEY ALL COME BACK

Melvin Moore, a former Glendale boy and son of P. A. C. Moore and wife, who lived on Windsor Road for several years, was in the city today, making arrangements to go to work for O. M. Clinton, in the garage and repair shop, September 1st. Mel was married June 21st to Miss Helen Miller, a Garvanza young lady who had frequently visited in Glendale. He has been working in the Long Beach shipyard for more than a year as riveter, but had to quit on account of kidney trouble brought on by so much bending over. He is an expert auto mechanic, so will be right at home in the garage. His brother, Harry, is still working in the shipyards. He said his older brother, Presley, who is a partner with his father in the syrup manufacturing business in Oakland, is again a father, much to the joy of himself and wife. This time it is a girl, who is a welcome little sister to the boy born two years ago.

COMMANDER BARRETT HONORED

Commander T. M. Barrett, head of the local N. P. Banks Post of the Grand Army of the Republic, at the closing session of the encampment at Huntington Beach was made a member of the Council of Administration of the Southern California Veterans' Association.

The program practically closed Thursday evening, but camp was not broken until the next morning. About twenty-five representatives of the post and corps attended from this city and according to all reports it was one of the pleasantest, most profitable encampments the Association has ever held.

MALICIOUS MISCHIEF

MRS. GEORGIANA BELL COMPLAINS OF MIDNIGHT THEFTS; TAMPERING WITH WATER

Mrs. Georgiana Bell of 357 West Wilson avenue is lodging a complaint with the police department and has also registered it with the Evening News about theft and malicious mischief perpetrated by parties unknown in her neighborhood at night, which she says has been going on for some time. A rug has been stolen from her front porch, a valuable jardiniere taken from the porch of Mrs. Knott across the street and water has been turned on and the hose stream directed onto the porch at Mrs. Bell's residence and also at the home of Mr. Jenkins at the end of the street, she says. Had she not been awakened, her premises would have been flooded and she is praying for relief from the nuisance.

THAT'S ALL

(By F. Booth)

My hair is besprinkled with gray,
And my face has grown wrinkled and wan:
They say every dog has his day,
And no doubt its the same with a man.
I know that my day now is past,
Life's twilight is all that remains;
And night's drawing near very fast,
And will end all my troubles and pains.

I can see myself now as a lad,
Full of mischief and frolic and fun;
And I see what fine chances I had,
And regret lots of things I have done.
Thoughtless deeds, unkind words, selfish gains—
Time wasted and more things beside,
But the saddest thought ever remains,
What I could have done had I tried.

I've had a fair share of life's joys,
And never known want of a meal;
Never played with luxury's toys,
Nor suffered what starving folks feel.
But I'm more discontented today
When my memory carries me back,
To know what I've gathered is clay,
While diamonds were strewed on my track.

I cannot begin over again,
(Maybe it's as well as it is),
So I'm waiting for the life that's to be,
For there's naught to be proud of in this,
When death comes, as surely it will,
And I'm forced to respond to the call.
Folk will say if they think of me still,—
Well, he lived,—and that's about all.

"ROBBING THE BOYS"

With the British and the French with their backs to the wall,
The hope of mankind seemed destined to fall.
When humanity's fate in the balance did hang,
A cry for quick help o'er the wireless rang.
America rose in her might for the task,
And answered that cry with the trumpets' fierce blast.
An army of millions like magic arose,
And went to the rescue and beat off their foes.
How well they did that their history will write,
They joined in the battle and won the great fight.
Unfair propaganda is being wide spread,
To rob our banner of the lustre it shed.
When Europe was wrapped in a cloud of despair,
It rose on her shores and brightened the air.
A presage of victory in each shimmering fold,
As it rose on the field for the foe to behold.
Let this propaganda bird with its RED covered breast,
Be driven into oblivion forever to rest.
Teach the children the facts just as they stand,
Defeat seemed certain till U. S. took a hand.
This great truth do not overlook,
Let it be written in every school book.
As the history of this war in the future goes down,
Let it give to America the greatest renown.

YOUNG MEN AND LIFE—OLD QUESTION UP

A number of eminently successful business men of the country have submitted to the Boston Globe answers to the question: "If you were a young man today, what business would you go into, and why?"

Various answers to the question were printed. An interesting feature of the answers as a whole is that none of them admits that if he had his life to live over again he would enter the business in which he has succeeded.

Possibly any one of the men interviewed would have made a success in any field he might have selected—and possibly not. Maybe the old rule of the "tide in the affairs of men" held good in each case, and taken at its flood, carried them on to fortune, and some to fame. Successful men of mature years may see possibilities in other fields than their own—possibilities that appeal to their imaginition and ambition, but by reason of their success where they are, they do not enter the new path. They only wonder why such a promising field is left vacant.

But it is not vacant. In that same field which looks so bright for a harvest to the man outside, there are occupants who have toiled and tilled and planted and gathered nothing but disappointment. One man wins, another man fails. One man goes forward in the face of every difficulty, fights his way, and gains success. Another, with equal advantages at the start, enters the same field, fights as hard, apparently, and then goes down to failure.

What is the answer? Clearly, that success is in the man, and not in the occupation, according to one line of reasoning. But even that theory gets a hard jolt when some young fellow enters the ring with opportunity, puts on the gloves, fights valiantly, is knocked down and counted out. The next year he comes back to fight a new antagonist, another opportunity, and he enters the ring, pokes opportunity in the face, blacks its eyes, gives it a jolt on the jaw and sits on its frame. The crowd cheers him as a "wonder." But it is the same man who lost the fight last year. He has found the opportunity that he can master. He is in the right place.

What then will the wiseacres say as to success lying wholly within this man, and not in the occupation?

Whatever the wiseacres say, the world knows that there are many misfits. A successful banker once moved to a farm to show his neighbors how to farm. In time his old associates in the bank sent the sheriff out to the farm, attached the cattle and the horses, the plows and the machinery, and sold them under the hammer. But the man had been a sucessful banker.

A Kansas farmer once accumulated a fairly large sum of money by years of successful management of a big farm. He sold his land, his crops, his livestock, and moved into a city, where he purchased a hottel and attempted to manage it. In time the sheriff took over the hotel for the creditors of the former successful farmer.

It is the old problem on which the eminently successful men who have answered the inquiry from the Boston Globe have offered some advice for solution. But the light they have shed upon the situation is dimmed somewhat by the reflection that if they were young again, they probably would do, barring some modern conditions in their old home towns, exactly what they did do when they started in life's race. They would go swimming in the old swimming pool, play hookey from school, start in, finally, as clerk at the local grocery store, find a job in father's foundry, answer an advertisement for a messenger boy at a bank—and in one or the other of these occupations, in one way or another, emerge as "eminently successful," just as they have done. But in doing that they would have distanced many of their young associates who entered the race with them.

And that leaves the question still unanswered as to whether it was just plain good luck or extraordinary judgment which first guided them to their first jobs in the grocery store, in father's foundry or as messenger boy in the bank.—Kansas City Times.

CONDENSED FRUIT RANCH

Henry Kirkby, of 112 West Elk avenue, has on the front of his 50-foot lot about the greatest number and variety of fruit trees in the whole city. His house sits well back and the space devoted to trees is about 50x75 feet. There are orange, lemon, peach and plum trees and several banana stalks. These bear every year but when the fruit is about the size of a man's thumb the bunch begins to wither and the first frost turns the bananas yellow, but they are not good to eat. The stalks are fully 30 feet high. Mr. Kirkby sells a good many dollars' worth of peaches and oranges every year. He also raises on vacant lots large crops of green corn and potatoes.

The way autos are now parceled out to the dealers reminds us of how sugar was distributed to retailers during the war. Each one was allowed, not what he could sell but what his customers absolutely needed for their daily wants. So each agency is allotted, not all it can sell, but pro rata of the factory output.

Los Angeles county has one-fourth of all the autos in the State of California.

Personals

Mrs. S. W. Christy has been quite ill for several days.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Charles Kent at 107 Arden avenue.

A. G. Spohr, his wife, brother and sister-in-law returned Saturday from an outing in the San Bernardino Mountains. The last two days of their stay were spent at Pine Crest.

Mrs. Stannard and her daughters, Fay and Elda, were Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. Eugene Haines at their home on California beyond Verdugo Road.

Mrs. E. H. Baird and daughter, Miss Arlene, of Dyersburg, Tenn., arrived Sunday evening, for a visit with Mrs. Baird's parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Spafford, on Central Ave.

Mrs. E. K. Barnes of 1303 North Brand boulevard is entertaining her mother, Mrs. B. F. Purdy, who has come from Texas to be with her for a short time.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bright of North Maryland avenue were the guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Joyce, in attending the Iowa picnic and witnessing the arrival of the fleet off Long Beach on Saturday.

Prof. J. F. Baker, new head of the Commercial Department of Glendale High, was in the city with his wife today, house hunting. He has been with Santa Ana Poly High in the same capacity for eight years past. There are two daughters in the family.

Mrs. J. H. Daugherty of 700 East Harvard street returned home last Tuesday from Eugene, Oregon, where she had been for many weeks at the bedside of her mother who was very ill and had to undergo an operation. Her mother was well on the road to recovery when she, Mrs. Daugherty, came home.

Rev. O. P. Rider and wife of 208 East Acacia avenue go to San Diego tomorrow to spend the remainder of the month, Rev. Rider having been granted a vacation of three weeks. Their daughter is there attending a summer normal, preparatory to teaching in the Pasadena schools the ensuing year.

Friends of Mrs. T. E. Cunningham, mother of Frank N. Ayars of 214 West Chestnut street, will be glad to learn that she has so far recovered from the operation she recently underwent for the removal of goitre that she will soon leave the hospital. She has been a frequent visitor in the home of her son and has quite a large acquaintance here.

Letters received recently from Mr. and Mrs. William Harvey of 215 West Los Feliz Road, who have been residing in Middletown, Ohio, for the best part of a year, state that they are seriously considering returning to their California home in September. It will be good news to their neighbors and many other friends by whom they have been greatly missed.

Smith Bros., who recently started in the business of buying and selling used autos, in the room at 308 East Broadway, say that so far their business has far exceeded their expectations. Five machines were sold last week and nearly thirty since they started in a few weeks ago. They think highly of Glendale as a business point.

Dr. J. H. Daugherty is eagerly looking for the arrival of his son, who is now on his way from Rensalaer, New York. His family is coming with him. He was for six years an instructor at Cornell University, Ithaca, New York, and then two years at Rensalaer. He comes out here to take charge of the engineering department in Throop College, Pasadena.

Recent letters from E. H. Learned and wife and daughter Edith tell of their delightful visit at the home of M. E. Leach and family in Merced. The Leaches lived in Glendale for several years, Mr. Leach working in the Coulter Dry Goods Store. His health required a change and he has been quite successful at ranching. The Learneds will come home when the fruit picking season ends.

E. J. Playter and family, who lived in Glendale for a number of years and moved to Long Beach when Elmer began working in the shipyards, are now in Hermosa. When the strike was called in the shipyards where he was working he secured electrical work with a moving picture company and he is doing well at that. The whole family is desirous of returning to Glendale and hope Mr. Playter's work can be so arranged as to bring this about.

Mrs. Roger Rees and little Barbara of Elsinore, who lived at 126 South Kenwood for a number of years, were in Glendale yesterday and today, the guests of Mrs. Rees' parents, F. W. Burgess and wife, 312 North Louise. She says all the family are well and Mr. Rees doing well in his new work, but they long for beautiful Glendale and hope they may yet return. A sister of Mr. Rees's came to visit them from Seattle eight weeks ago and was successful in getting employment as a school teacher, so will remain with them.

UNIQUE MASONIC EVENT

THREE CHAPTERS PARTICIPATE IN CONFERRING DEGREES ON 120 BLUE LODGE MEMBERS

An unique Masonic initiation, the like of which has probably never before been seen in this country, took place Saturday afternoon and evening at Sycamore Grove when Royal Arch Masons of Hollywood Chapter 120 invited Unity Chapter No. 116, of this city, and Los Angeles Chapter 33 to be their guests and participate in the initiation of 120 Blue Lodge Masons upon whom were conferred the degree of Mark Master.

The Masonic ceremonials were preceded by an elaborate program put on by the Hollywood Chapter for the entertainment of its guests representing events in the days of King Solomon. It was very elaborately and effectively staged and highly creditable to the host Chapter. Other entertainers, including a quartette and fancy dancers, furnished a supplementary program which was followed by a real Spanish dinner and barbecue, superintended by the celebrated Spanish chef, Joe Alvarez, who made such a hit with the Shriners when here in convocation that they took him east with them and staged a dinner in one of the parks of Indianapolis which the natives still talk about as the hottest affair they ever experienced.

The afternoon was given to the lodge meeting, which opened in regular form. About 550 Masons were present and the ceremonies lasted into the night, Glendale being well represented.

VISITORS TO "ARKANSAS"

Among the visitors from Glendale who made the journey to San Pedro Sunday to see the Pacific Fleet were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Denison and Owen Denison of 330 West Broadway, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Henderson and sons, the Misses Carmargo of North Belmont street, and several others in a party which boarded the Dreadnaught "Arkansas," where they were treated with the greatest courtesy by the "gobs" detailed to show them about. The "Arkansas" which was built in 1912 is not the latest battleship model, but was sufficiently wonderful to fill the guests with awe and make them wish they could remain longer to study it. On account of the throngs taking advantage of the invitation to visit the vessel the boarding was a rather hazardous operation, but so careful were the attendants, there were no mishaps.

Among the thousands of visitors to the beach towns Glendale was well represented and nearly all felt well repaid for the journey and for the vision they had of the deep sea guardians of the Pacific Coast and the fine lot of boys who man them.

Dr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold went to San Diego for the week-end.

Ruth Begg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Begg of 724 South Louise street, and her cousin, Elizabeth Borncamp, are the guests of their uncle, who has an orange ranch at La Verne, this side of Pomona.

Mrs. T. G. Widmeyre of 503 North Kenwood, who underwent a major operation in the Glendale Sanitarium three weeks ago, was able to return home one day last week and will soon be fully recovered.

First hand reports from friends of Comrade J. J. Weiler of Acacia avenue, who was quite ill following his stay at the Huntington Beach G. A. R. encampment state that he was much better Saturday and is believed to be well on the road to complete recovery.

Paul Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Smith of 229 North Kenwood street, and Arville Williams, son of Mrs. E. V. Williams, both of whom have been at work in the oil fields around Bakersfield, have come south for a few days to view the Pacific Fleet and see their relatives here.

Mrs. Etta Marsh of 1315 South Central avenue was hostess at an altogether delightful but informal dinner party given Friday evening in honor of Mrs. G. F. Latter, who is leaving soon for her new home in San Francisco where Mr. Latter now is. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. W. W. McElroy, Mr. and Mrs. William J. Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Rowe, Mrs. Latter and the hostess. Following the dinner guests enjoyed a very pleasant social evening.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERTS ENTERTAIN

The dinner party given Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Roberts at their charming home at 539 East Elk avenue, like all the affairs at which they are host and hostess was a delightful affair. A pink color scheme was carried out with dainty place cards, nut baskets and French china asters with which the two tables were centered, for both the dining room and breakfast room were requisitioned for the function. Dinner was served at seven and covers were laid for Messrs. and Mesdames E. U. Emery, Charles H. Temple, W. E. Evans, H. D. Goss, Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Boyer, Albert D. Pearce, Claud Case, A. W. Tower, C. W. McFadden, the host and hostess and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Martin of Los Angeles. Following the dinner the party motored to Venice where the evening was spent.

FUNERAL OF MRS. MARY YEAGER

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. Mary Yeager, who passed away Friday, August 8, 1918, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. Jamison, of 328 Vine street, Glendale, will be held Tuesday, August 12th, at 2 p. m. at the Little Church of the Flowers in Forest Lawn Memorial Park. They will be conducted by Rev. B. C. Cory, a former pastor of the Central Ave. Methodist Church.

NECTARINES RIPE

Nectarines are ripe now and most of the trees in Glendale are fairly loaded down with the fruit. The nectarine is a cross between plum and peach, with the smooth skin of the former and the meat and ridged seed of the latter. The flavor is entirely peach. Most nectarines are a dark red when ripe, but there is a variety, not common, that is nearly white.

FLEET HERE TO STAY

In one of his speeches Sunday, Secretary Daniels announced that there is now building at Mare Island the largest battleship ever known, more powerful by far than any nation now owns and it is to be named California and remain on this coast. He also announced that the Pacific Fleet is here to stay and that harbors on this coast will be enlarged to accommodate it. It is to consist of more than two hundred vessels. They will not all be assembled out here till January 1st as some of those assigned are in foreign waters.

MOTION PICTURES IN CHURCHES

There is a growing feeling among church people that the moving picture could be made a strong adjunct to their work, and some of the new buildings being erected have screens and projecting apparatus as part of their equipment. Bible stories will be filmed by a company recently organized in Los Angeles and they will be shown in many churches as part of Sunday and Wednesday evening services. One new church building now being planned for a Glendale congregation will have this improvement, if the present sentiment of its people is taken into consideration. A moving picture of a Bible class of 600 members was recently taken in Long Beach and it was shown on the screen of a local theatre, Sunday.

CENSUS SUPERVISORS APPOINTED

The Secretary of Commerce upon the recommendation of the Director of the Census, has announced his appointments for supervisors in the nine districts into which the state has been divided. The 8th district comprises the County of Los Angeles, the population of which was 504,131 in 1910. It is thought it is nearly double that number now. Philip F. Dodson, of South Pasadena, has been named as supervisor for this district. Charles G. Rowan, of San Diego, is the appointee for the 9th district, comprising the counties of Imperial, Inyo, Mono, Orange, Riverside, San Bernardino and San Diego, which had a population of 210,110 in 1910.

OPENS BRANCH OFFICE IN GLENDALE

Attorney Dwight W. Stephenson announces the opening of a branch office at the Glendale National Bank, corner of Brand boulevard and Cypress Ave., where he will be pleased to meet his friends from 8:00 to 10:00 a. m. Appointments may be made by calling Glendale 811-W or Pico 3120. From 10:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m., Mr. Stephenson will be at his main office, Suite 722 Merchants National Bank Building, Los Angeles. 289-91-93

JOHN JACKSON VISITS GLENDALE HOME

J. H. Jackson was over from Avalon, Catalina Island, yesterday and today, visiting relatives on Milford and consulting with a doctor. Some months ago in lifting a heavy box in the Payne & Moode store in Avalon, of which he is manager, one of the vertebrae was misplaced and he has suffered greatly from it ever since. He thinks all is well again with him and that this was the last visit to the doctor necessary. Mr. Jackson is still a resident of Glendale owning a home on Milford street, where his wife's parents and his daughter, Miss Bertha, live.

HOPES TO MOVE OUT TO GLENDALE

Leo P. Rider, of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, has been the guest of his brother, Rev. O. P. Rider, 208 East Acacia avenue, for the past week. He is western salesman for a big wholesale firm of Cedar Rapids. Asked if his brother had gotten the California fever yet Rev. Rider smiled and said: "Yes, he certainly has. He is going back to Cedar Rapids to try to sell his property so he can locate in Glendale, which he considers the fulfillment of his dreams as a residence city.

GRANTING GENERAL AMNESTY TO ARMY CONVICTS

Senator Chamberlain's bill authorizing amnesty for prisoners under courtmartial sentences is drawn so broadly that it is all but general in its application to the army, navy and marine forces. Under its provisions every sentence of a court-martial, save in cases where the crime, if prosecuted in the federal courts, would have involved conviction for felony, is to be abrogated, the prisoner to be released and given honorable discharge from the service, where he is now in custody, with indemnification for all ferfeiture of pay and allowances, and in all cases where sentences have been served, such rights of citizenship as have been forfeited on account of dishonorable discharge shall be restored.

The unnecessary severity, amounting in many instances to gross injustice, of the original sentences of the army court-martial, has been recognized and confessed by the action of the clemency board in the reduction of sentences in some hundreds of cases aggregating 28,000 years to a total of six thousand, but the powers of this board being limited to a recommendation for a a commutation of sentence, there remains the injustice of the record standing against loyal boys whose offenses against military law were more often thoughtless than wilful. Whatever may have been the necessity for their punishment for the maintenance of discipline during the period of war, that necessity has now passed, and neither the individual, nor the morale of the service, nor the welfare of the community will be served by their continued confinement, even for a limited period.

There will be some question, however, whether the record should be wholly cleared by such a general sweep of the amnesty sponge. Justice to the men who served without discredit must be done, as well as to those whose degree of offense has been exaggerated. There were military offenses which should not be entirely overlooked. The man who deserted, or shirked his duty, is not entitled to full equality on the record with the men who fought and did their best. Clemency—even mercy—is to be bestowed with discretion. An extension of the powers of the reviewing board, andd provision, if necessary, for speeding up their work, would be better than a sweeping erasure of all the black marks, regardless of the circumstances, and spirit of the individual offending.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

Autoists from the east desiring to visit Yosemite will be saved a long detour to north or south by the opening of the Tioga Pass road from Mono Lake west to the Park.

GERMANY EXPECTS U. S. MUSICIANS

BERLIN. (By Mail). — Musical circles in Berlin and Dresden expect a great influx of American musicians as soon as enough time has elapsed to allow whatever rancor may be felt in that country against the Germans to disappear and providing the United States government places no restrictions upon such emigration.

is Bolshevism, which seeks to overthrow every standard of morality, decency and equity. According to a Russian authority, the analysis of the word Bolshevik is as follows: Bolsh—big or large; evik—to revolve, to turn over; literally and truly—a great revolution. There is no such thing as sacredness, respect or pity in Bolshevism. It is a reversing of all right principles. In the countries where this serpent is twining its slimy and deadly coils about its victims, the people have for centuries been educated to believe in the theory that there is no God, no law. If there is no law there is no sin. Behold the results in Bolshevism, which takes this teaching literally and applies it. The horribleness of the results are apparent to all, but few realize where the evil began.

If the source is pure the fountain will be pure. Trace up the source. Yet with it all, "the Lord is in His holy temple; let all the earth keep silence before Him."

At the time when Lincoln was assassinated everything seemed about to go to pieces. The angry mobs were quieted and dispersed by the wisdom of one man who from a vantage point spoke these words of Scripture to them: "The Lord reigneth. The clouds and darkness are round about Him, righteousness and judgment are the habitation of His throne." The effect was wonderful and order was restored.

Now as hearts are perplexed at the state of the world the only thing to do is to look to God who rules the Universe. If the heart is pure and Christ rules within, external things cannot shake its integrity. Restore the law of God in each heart and the Kingdom of Heaven will be here. Reject the law of God—anarchy and ruin follow. The citizen who obeys his country's laws willingly and gladly, upholds and strengthens its principles. The Christian whose delight is in the law of God will say: "I esteem thy precepts concerning all things to be right, and I hate every false way." Thus he upholds the principles upon which God's government is based.

The belief prevails here that it will be but a short time before art relations between the two countries will be resumed with greater energy of purpose than before the war.

"I am sure it will take time to bring this about," declared August Spanuth, well known musical critic today, "but I believe that the American musical public will come to a realization that art is above personal and nationalistic hatred.

"The Germans produced many of Shakespeare's tragedies while the war was on, just as they played Verdi's operas and Sousa's marches. I believe the American people have too much common sense to neglect the study of German music. It would mean cutting into their own flesh.

"Of course, they might, for some time, study only French and Italian music, but they will have to come to Germany sooner or later. They will find it almost impossible to be without German music, and will soon want to hear Wagnerian operas again.

"Peace has been signed; let us have peace, then—at least so far as music is concerned."
